

FROM OUR SAMPRADA:YA

(Part-3)

In the last issue we have learnt that Mumukshuppadi clearly explains the meaning of the three Vaishnava manthras i.e. Thirumanthram, Dvayam and Charama slo:kam. Let us try to concisely know the greatness of these manthras before making an attempt to understand their meanings. The term Mantra is defined as “Mantha:ram thra:yathe iti Manthraha.” That means the incantation that saves a person who steadily contemplates on it is a Mantra. There are several manthras mentioned in the Vedas. Different manthras are prescribed to attain different ends.

Sri Pillai Loka:charya has broadly classified the manthras into two i.e. Vya:paka and Avyapaka manthras. Vya:paka manthras clearly elucidate the omnipresent nature of the Supreme Lord whereas the Avyapaka manthras are limited to a particular parameter or few parameters. Thereby the Avyapaka manthras highlight only one or a few of the innumerable auspicious traits of the Lord. Hence the Vya:paka manthras are considered to be greater than the Avyapaka manthras. There are only three Vyapaka manthras. They are:-

- 1) Ashta:kshari i.e. O:M NAMO: . NA:RA:YANA:YA
- 2) Vishnu Shada:kshari i.e. O:M VISHNAVE: NAMAHA and
- 3) Dwadasa:kshari i.e. O:M NAMO: BHAGAVATHE VA:SUDE:VA:YA

The Ashta:kshari mantra is considered to be the most excellent among the Vya:paka manthras due to the following reasons.

- 1) The Pranava i.e. O:M and the term Nama that indicates the Jiva:thma's (soul's) constitutional nature of servility towards the Lord, are not naturally present in the other two manthras.
- 2) The Vishnu Shada:kshari describes only the All pervasive nature of the Lord. The Dwadasa:kshari describes the all pervasive attribute and also six other auspicious qualities of the Lord, with the term Bhagava:n. They - are wealth, fame, strength, beauty, knowledge and power. Whereas the Ashta:kshari mantra describes Him as the One who supports and regulates everything with the term Na:ra:yaṇa. Thereby it describes all the qualities of the Lord.

- 3) It is shorter and easier to contemplate or meditate when compared to Dwadasa:kshari mantra.
- 4) Supreme Lord Na:ra:yaṇa Himself has revealed this mantra. According to Srimad-Bha:gvatham, He incarnated as the son of Praja:pathi 'Dharma' and Ma:thamurti to reveal this mantra for the benefit of the universe at large. He revealed it to Nara, at the all sanctifying Badrinath (in Himalayas). It is also said in the scriptures that the Supreme Lord Na:ra:yaṇa Himself along with Nara is contemplating on this mantra even in our days, in the form of mountains, in Badrinath.
- 5) It reveals the Nava-vidha-sambandha (nine types of relationships that exist between a soul and the Lord).
- 6) It explains Arttha panchakam. Arttha panchakam means the following five realities that are to be known by the aspirant of liberation.
- a) Sva-swaru:pam i.e. the true nature of one's Self.
- b) Para-swaru:pam i.e. the nature of the Lord who is the ultimate goal of all spiritual pursuits.
- c) Upa:ya-swaru:pam i.e. the means to attain the goal.
- d) Viro:dhi-swaru:pam i.e. the impediments in attaining one's goal and
- e) Phala-swaru:pam i.e. the nature of the bliss that one would attain by attaining the goal.
- 7) There are many mantras prescribed in Ve:das to achieve different desired ends, However Ashta:kshari Mantra is the only Mantra that can gratify all kinds of desires of the person who contemplates on it and also grant liberation from this material world, hence, it is called as Maha:Mantra (greatest Mantra).
