Worship your own mother, worship your own father, worship your own god, worship your own language, worship your own culture and also your own country. Respect other's mother, father, faith, culture, country, language etc. You need not worship them. If you like other's culture, taste or wealth, you may use it judiciously with due respect, but not by killing your own wealth, or taste or culture. It is foolishness to give up or disrespect your mother, your father or your native faith that is responsible for your very existence on this Earth today !! Realise that those who don't respect others are in fact, not True to their own ones, but they are selfish & greedy, who are fond of pleasure at the cost of others. They are dangerous to the society.
