

THE PHILOSOPHY OF TRUTH

-T.Giridhar & Deepa.

Truth is something we should be able to accept and use it for the good of all. It shall never become false because we are not convinced. Rishis experienced many such truths, scientists discovered many such truths. Whatever it be, one can only know and use what is 'already there'. Nothing new can be created. It's new when it comes from a different angle with a different name and purpose !

Generations are passing by, hard earned knowledge and great Divine experiences have to be transferred to the coming generations. Unfortunately, now people are more into luxury, comforts and physical enjoyments rather than for realising the purpose of this birth and leading life in that direction. People are becoming less interested in spiritual and holy pursuits because of increased materialism and passion for ostensity and fame.

Great Divine experiences and the values of our traditional riches have to be preserved. Ultimately they only give solace to these ignorant souls. Truth is so difficult to realise, but, once realised, it is so simple and wonderful that makes any person highly qualified and revered. That is what education is supposed to impart. But, where is such education ? One who learns Sasthras is being categorised as a religious person, though Sasthras speak everything about social living and social practices. Some... who realised their importance started to manipulate Sasthras and misguide people, to gain their selfish ends. Earlier, there used to be ideals and principles, based on which practices are established. Now people have become so intelligent that they are doing what ever they want, they wish, they believe, that is 'beneficial' to them and trying to prove that it is there in Sasthras too.

The Philosophy of Truth which used to instill inspiration and a sort of courage and strength has now become a playful toy in the hands of learned 'elite'. For whom living is going well, God is never a subject except for celebration and self defence. Most of educated, and well settled youth and elders come under this. However, they remember God, when there is any serious problem or critical difficulty. Who is striving hard, passing through the difficulties, or committing sins mostly remembers God to mitigate all his problems. These days Gods have become show pieces of exhibition and many rituals have become the deeds to exploit the weakness of devotees. The philosophy of 'devotion' and 'sacrifice' have totally lost their way in the life of well doing individuals. The very purpose of 'Truth' is being defeated, as people have lost themselves in the infatuation of the modernism and globalisation which is going against the principles of 'humanism' and its very fundamental nature.

Whatever is real is real, howmuch ever one may argue or exercise, whether they are convinced or not, whether they won over the arguement or even lost it !! .

Vedas declare that Lord Narayana permeates throughout the whole Universe. He is the omnicontroller of all the objects, sentient and insentient. They declare that the whole world is ' True ' and ' Real '. How much it concerns to the human perception and use is secondary issue.

His Divine name is as powerful as He Himself is. He is omnipotent even if He assumes a deity form, a form of a photo, or even a form of a glass blade. The way we eat the content and leave the container, so also Lord takes the devotion and leaves all the rest to us. However, you cannot offer anything without container, so also we cannot offer only devotion to God, without doing any thing. We should do what we are capable of and what we are supposed to... that He likes. Fill devotion in it and offer. He feasts your devotion and Love and blesses you with better and better chances of realising Him soon.

What if we realise Him... ?? That's where the search for Truth ends. The philosophy of your deed finds a purposeful way in serving Him. You feel elated ... joyful.. for all His magnanimity, Love and grace. You feel deep sense of gratitude for all the rest of your Life...serve Him with Pure Love and spotless devotion. Body and mind get cleansed... 'TRUE REALISATION' MAKES MAN SIMPLE, HUMBLE AND DIVINE...
